BULLETIN #1

Back Together Sunday

As another school year begins, families are settling into new routines. It's one of the most significant times of the year for people to reconnect with their parish community. Many who have been away from Mass over the summer—or even longer—are looking for a fresh start.

That's why our parish is celebrating Back Together Sunday on [date]. It's an opportunity to offer an extra measure of welcome and hospitality to everyone who walks through our doors. A smile, a warm greeting, an invitation to sit together, or simply noticing someone new can help people know they belong.

Think of one person—a family member, neighbor, coworker, fellow parent, or friend—and personally invite them to join you for Mass on [date].

Not Catholic? You and your family are welcome too. If you've been looking for a faith community or would like to learn more about the Catholic faith, we'd love to meet you. Join us at any of our weekend Masses. (Insert Mass times.)

BULLETIN #2

Back Together Sunday

When people drift away from the Church, it's often not because they've rejected their faith. More often, life simply changes. A move. A new job. Children. Busy schedules. Before long, Sunday Mass is no longer part of the routine.

The beginning of the school year is one of the best opportunities to reconnect. As families establish new rhythms, many are open to returning to church—especially when someone personally invites them.

Our parish will celebrate Back Together Sunday on [date] as a special weekend of welcome and hospitality. Who is one person you can invite back to Mass?

Not Catholic? We'd love to welcome you too. If you're interested in learning more about the Catholic faith, contact us about our OCIA process. (Insert parish information.)

BULLETIN #3

Back Together Sunday

Sometimes becoming disconnected from a parish begins with something as ordinary as moving, changing jobs, or entering a new stage of life. People don't necessarily lose their faith—they simply lose their connection.

As summer ends and a new school year begins, people naturally look for community, purpose, and stability. This is the perfect time to invite someone back.

Share why your parish matters to you. Then invite someone to join you for Back Together Sunday on [date]. Your invitation may be exactly what they've been hoping for.

Not Catholic? We'd love to welcome you and your family as well. Join us for Mass or contact us to learn more about the Catholic faith through OCIA. (Insert parish contact information.)

BULLETIN #4

Back Together Sunday

Sometimes people don't return to church because they assume no one noticed they were gone.

But people do notice. More importantly, God never stops calling them home.

As we prepare for Back Together Sunday on [date], our parish is making a special effort to welcome everyone who walks through our doors. Whether someone has been away for a few months or many years, a personal invitation from someone they know can make all the difference.

This week, tell someone why going to Mass matters to you—and invite them to join you.

Not Catholic? We'd be delighted to welcome you too. If you're interested in learning more about the Catholic faith, contact us about our OCIA process. (Insert parish information.)

BULLETIN #5

Back Together Sunday

Back Together Sunday is almost here!

As families begin another school year and settle into new routines, our parish is preparing to welcome everyone who joins us for Mass on [date].

Have you invited someone yet?

The greatest invitation isn't found in a bulletin, a postcard, or social media. It's a personal invitation from someone they know and trust.

One invitation could change someone's life. Let's help every person who joins us experience the welcome of Christ and the joy of belonging to our parish family.

Not Catholic? You're always welcome here. Join us for any weekend Mass or contact us to learn more about becoming Catholic through OCIA. (Insert parish information.)
