Christmas Together Bulletin Series

BULLETIN #1

Christmas Together

As Advent begins, families are preparing for Christmas. It's one of the most significant times of the year for people to reconnect with their parish community. Many who have been away from Mass—for a season or even longer—are looking for a fresh start.

That's why our parish is celebrating Christmas Together. It's an opportunity to offer an extra measure of welcome and hospitality to everyone who walks through our doors. A smile, a warm greeting, an invitation to sit together, or simply noticing someone new can help people know they belong.

Think of one person—a family member, neighbor, coworker, fellow parent, or friend—and personally invite them to join you for Mass for Christmas.

Not Catholic? You and your family are welcome too. If you've been looking for a faith community or would like to learn more about the Catholic faith, we'd love to meet you. Join us at any of our Christmas Masses. [Insert Mass times.]

A smile, a warm greeting, an invitation to sit together, or simply noticing someone new can help people know they belong.

BULLETIN #2

Christmas Together

When people drift away from the Church, it's often not because they've rejected their faith. More often, life simply changes. A move. A new job. Children. Busy schedules. Before long, Sunday Mass is no longer part of the routine.

Advent and Christmas are among the best opportunities to reconnect. As families gather and hearts turn toward home, many are open to returning to church—especially when someone personally invites them.

Who is one person you can invite back to Mass this Christmas season?

Not Catholic? We'd love to welcome you too. If you're interested in learning more about the Catholic faith, contact us about our OCIA process. [Insert parish information.]

BULLETIN #3

Christmas Together

Sometimes becoming disconnected from a parish begins with something as ordinary as moving, changing jobs, or entering a new stage of life. People don't necessarily lose their faith—they simply lose their connection.

As the days grow shorter and Christmas draws near, people naturally look for light, community, and hope. This is the perfect time to invite someone back.

Share why your parish matters to you. Then invite someone to join you for Mass this Christmas season. Your invitation may be exactly what they've been hoping for.

Not Catholic? We'd love to welcome you and your family as well. Join us for Mass or contact us to learn more about the Catholic faith through OCIA. [Insert parish contact information.]

BULLETIN #4

Christmas Together

Christmas is almost here!

As families prepare to celebrate the birth of Jesus, our parish is preparing to welcome everyone who joins us for Mass this Christmas season.

Have you invited someone yet?

The greatest invitation isn't found in a bulletin, a postcard, or social media. It's a personal invitation from someone they know and trust.

One invitation could change someone's life. Let's help every person who joins us experience the welcome of Christ and the joy of belonging to our parish family.

Not Catholic? You're always welcome here. Join us for any Christmas Mass or contact us to learn more about becoming Catholic through OCIA. [Insert parish information.]
