YOU ARE NOT ALONE

Important Information for Mothers with Unexpected Pregnancies

Greater Cincinnati Area

Welcome to

YOU ARE NOT ALONE

Pregnancy may be the most exciting and possibly terrifying time of a woman's life. We want you to know we care about you and your welfare. This brochure is aimed at informing you of the resources available to help you through this time. Many services are free of charge. Please review this brochure to determine what is available in an area near you and how to contact a resource that you deem appropriate. We are sincere when we say that we have your best interests at heart and you can have confidence that anyone you contact from these organizations will understand your situation and will keep your information private.

Many centers listed in this brochure belong to the Greater Cincinnati/Miami Valley Pregnancy Center Coalition. These pregnancy centers are committed to a code of ethics that support life from conception to natural death and offer free testing and/or counseling to those with physical, emotional, educational, financial, and legal needs due to pregnancy. Pregnancy centers offer information that clients need in order to make informed decisions about their particular situation. All information from these centers is free (unless otherwise noted) and confidential. In order to be connected directly to a pregnancy center nearest to you, call 1-800-712-HELP (4357).

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS...

Q: Where can I go for a pregnancy test?

A: All of the pregnancy centers offer pregnancy testing. Several centers provide non-diagnostic ultra-sounds to determine viability and/or gestational age. A list of these services is provided in this brochure.

Q: Do I need an approved test to get a Medical Card for my pregnancy?

A: Yes. Only an approved test will allow you to apply for a medical card. Call one of the centers in this brochure.

Q: Where can I get some material assistance, for clothes, food, diapers and furniture for example?

A: There are many resources for items you may need in a center near you. Call to see if they have what you need or can refer you for assistance.

Q: I'm not ready and am really afraid of the responsibility of having a baby. What can I do?

A: Parenting is a responsibility, and all pregnant women and men require support. Refer to the center nearest you for information about the services they provide.

Q: Having a baby is not what I really wanted to do with the rest of my life. Am I not entitled to be free of this responsibility?

A: That's a difficult question to answer. You should take time to seriously think about your answer, and you should consider that other people are involved, including the father of your child. Please get help with this question through the resources mentioned in this brochure.

Q: I am not in a good relationship with the baby's father and fear bringing up a child as a single parent. What can I do?

A: There are many people who have been in your situation. Many of the centers in this brochure offer parenting and life skill classes, as well as peer counseling.

Q: I really have all the children I want and this one is really unexpected and unwanted. What can I do?

A: From already having children you know what to expect and it isn't easy to have another child when you didn't want one. Talk to someone about alternatives before ending that life within you by getting counsel from one of the resources in this brochure. You will gain insight, information, and needed support that will empower you in your decision-making process.

Q: I have already had one or more pregnancy terminations, what can I do now?

A: There are women (and men) who have terminated their pregnancy and now have second thoughts. Some centers offer post-abortive healing. Additional organizations offering healing after abortion are referenced in this booklet under Additional Resources.

A PRAYER FOR THE GIFT OF LIFE

LOVING God we raise you up for those in our Centers who serve women whose unplanned pregnancy challenges them, and the choices they must make involving the gift of your creation. Be present to us always; help us to imitate you in all we do especially as we are present to these women who are so vulnerable. Awaken in every heart, reverence for the work of your hands, and renew in us a readiness to nurture and sustain your precious gift of life. We seek your blessings that we may be better prepared to serve you. To share in and strengthen the network in which the beauty and splendor of your creation lives. Amen.
